A PRINCIPAL'S FAREWELL

When I came to Victoria Composite from Strathcona Composite in 1965 as a math teacher, little did I realize that I would be saying good-bye in 1979 as the principal. These past fourteen years have presented a number of changes in the school that have been for the benefit of the student.

In 1965, Victoria was two schools in one: Victoria High School, an academic school as the east half of the campus; Victoria Vocational School, a technical school as the west half of the campus. This arrangement created rivalry among the students so that depending on what part of the school they were located, students were labelled "Good Guys" and "Bad Guys".

One of the first positive changes was to unite the two schools into one school, with one principal. I hoped that this would provide a better school spirit, reduce student friction and allow a much broader selection of courses and programs.

During the following years the shift of population to the suburbs and the opening of several new high schools reduced our population. Therefore we were able to serve the citizens of Edmonton in a variety of ways: shop programs for adults through the PFTP (Priority Employment Training Plan); adult attendance at day classes; incorporation of the trades and service students in the T. D. Baker school. The latter program was integrated into one school under the leadership of one principal, as we have today.

At present, in 1978-1979 we have approximately 1500 high school and 350 adult day students.

Since the demand for adult education programs is increasing, the future of Victoria Composite may be a part of filling those needs as we hear rumours that the Government of Alberta will be taking over the school for adult upgrading programs.

Considering the number of adults that are involved in education as a continuing concern, perhaps it is time for our students to examine goals and make firm decisions to stay in school to complete a chosen program. Many students want to leave school for the world of work. I think we should keep in mind that many of these students will be required to return to school for further education. Perhaps with a little more effort and determination, the decision to stay in school and to complete a program is the proper decision to make at this time.

During my fourteen years at Vic, I have found that each year presented a challenge. Curriculum and programs have changed to meet the needs of the student and change is always a challenge.

I shall miss Vic, but in retirement I see more challenges in the future. Who knows? I may return to Vic as an adult student to cope with the challenges of my future interests.

Goodbye Vic

This year is my year of retirement, and this message to you is my one and only chance to say goodbye.

So how does one say goodbye? Perhaps no one can really say goodbye to something that has been a part of one's life for so many years. Perhaps one should just say "thank you" to the many students, teachers and support people that I have known at Vic and whose life in so many ways have touched mine.

The time of leaving is also a time of assessment. Vic may not be all it ought to be. Nevertheless, one of its uniqueness is its concern for people. It has always been thus from its very beginning in 1912. It was thus when I was a student here. I can still hear Mr. Shortcliffe's voice as he taught me algebra "Infinity, Miss Hawrelak, Infinity! You still don't know what it is? I was petrified! I could never answer his questions. But one day I sprained my ankle and he helped me up the long neverending stairs. A helping hand, a friendly remark, and I became a person with dignity and self respect.

I hope that many of you will recall some incident where in a miraculous moment you too were transformed from a blubbering idiot to a real person by someone's helping hand, perhaps by my hand. There have always been people here who cared. I can truly say I cared. Perhaps in a quiet moment you may sometimes hear my voice resounding through the passage of time, "Clear the decks" or "No, I won't let you drop that course. You can do it. Just try a little harder." More than anything else I wanted you to have an education - not only learning about content material but also about yourself as a person and something about truth and beauty and self discipline.

And now it is time to go. But let me leave these words with you, words by which I have tried to live:

I expect to pass through this world
but once
any good therefore I can do, or any kindness that I can show to any fellow creature,
let me do it now.
For I shall not pass this way again.

Finally, I dearly wish for everyone of you a full share of the most precious things which make up the good life: health, success, happiness and love.

Mr. Adam, Advisor

Well here we are--school is almost over, and we each can look forward to what the future brings. This yearbook is filled with memories of many events which happened in the past year. Again, we have tried to have pictures of as many different people and places as possible. We hope we have succeeded in doing so.

Producing a yearbook is not an easy task; it takes a lot of work and dedication. It also requires a joint effort from each staff member; especially when deadlines have to be met. We would like to thank this year's layout staff and photographers for the time and effort that each of them has contributed. We all have to admit that we had a great time putting it together, and the end result is very gratifying. If there are any errors in this book, we apologize, for they were not intentional.

We hope that you enjoy this book, and we wish all of you success and happiness in life. And someday as you leaf through these pages, you'll be able to say "It's Yesterday Once More..."

MYSELF

I have to live with myself and so
I want to be fit for myself to know.
I want to be able as the days go by,
Always to look myself in the eye.
I don't want to stand with the setting sun,
And hate myself for the things I've done.
I want to go out with my head erect.
I want to deserve all men's respect.
But here in the struggle for fame and pelt,
I want to be able to like myself.
I don't want to look at myself and know,
that I'm bluster and bluff and empty show.
I can never hide myself from me.
I see what others may never see.
I know what others may never know.
I can never fool myself, and so,
Whatever happens I want to be Self-respecting and conscience-free.
